沿革 【History】

▶▶▶▶▶▶
臺灣省政資料館位於風景優美的中興新村，原隸屬臺灣省政府，前身為該府圖表室，負責運用省政統計圖表資料向蒞府外賓簡介省政各項業務及施政成果，嗣因來訪外賓日眾，場地不敷使用，民國54年（1965年）10月25日於現址興建完成，做為接待外賓，以及辦理重要集會、研習之主要場館。88年（1999年）7月展開精省作業、省政資料館轉型、強化教育展示功能，開放民眾免費參觀。同年，發生921大地震，因主體建築及陳列室受損嚴重，經過兩年整建，於90年（2001年）10月4日重新開館啟用，並開始召募志工協助導覽解說服務。

Taiwan Provincial Administration Information Hall, sitting in the scenic Zhongxing New Village, originally belonged to Taiwan Provincial Government as a room for charts and tables which were used as aids for explaining the operation and achievements of the Provincial Government to visitors. However, the room became insufficient to accommodate the ever growing number of visitors. The construction of the Taiwan Provincial Administration Information Hall was completed on October 25, 1965 at its current site, as a venue to receive visitors and for important meetings and trainings. In July 1999, the Information Hall was transformed along with the downsizing of the Provincial Government, strengthening its educational functions and open to the public for free. But later in the same year, the main building and exhibition rooms were seriously damaged by Chi-Chi earthquake. After two years of repairing, the Information Hall was re-launched on October 4, 2001, and started to recruit volunteers to serve as tour guides.
